

UNDERWATER PHOTOGRAPHY

Oceanic Waterbabies

WELCOME TO THE PHOTO SHOOT EXPERIENCE

- We aim to make your time in the water an enjoyable experience for you and your child. Some of our well-loved favourite toys and equipment from your child's swim class will be poolside to help inspire participation and great shots on the day.
- The photo session is a reasonably quick process to give us the best chance of retaining the attention of your little one. An experienced Waterbabies teacher will coordinate the submersions with you and your child and as many images as possible will be taken within the allocated time frame.
- We aim to produce a minimum of 3 quality images for you but ultimately, this will be dependent upon your child and their underwater capability and participation on the day.

Photo shoot sessions are only available to children swimming with Oceanic Waterbabies who have completed a minimum of 4 terms (1 year) of swimming in the program.

IS YOUR CHILD READY?

The well-being of your child is far more important than any activity undertaken...

- Kids can be unpredictable in their mood and behavior, especially when we want so much for them to have a lovely time and cooperate!☺ We will do our absolute best to create the ideal scenario for your photo session but will respect your child's body language and mood on the day.
- This means should there be upset affecting your child's participation, we reserve the right to terminate the session and re-schedule you to another photo shoot. (See Terms & Conditions below)
- On the day, if your child is unwell, persistently upset or grumpy, out of sorts or possibly coming down with illness, it may be best to reschedule. So please let us know via text to the mobile number we will provide. We will contact you during our office hours to re-schedule your booking. (See Terms & Conditions).

Submersion and Releasing

- It is vitally important for your child to be comfortable with submersion and releasing. Adequate lung capacity is necessary to manage submersion without stress. If on the lead up to the photoshoot your child misses a few lessons due to illness, their lung capacity and stamina may be affected. If so, please consider notifying us to reschedule for another session to give your child time to build their lung capacity.
- Is there any stress around submersion due to 'sore eyes'? If so, your little one may be needing goggles and this can be a strong indicator to postpone your booking and focus on a positive transition into goggles. Book in once they are happy and comfortable submerging in their new goggles.
- Is your child transitioning into goggles but still not quite happy with them on or off? If there is stress or upset around goggles, it is advised to also wait until this transition is successful and your child is happy to wear and submerge in their goggles.
- Goggles – if your child is happy to wear their goggles, please ensure they are in good condition for the photo shoot (not scratched or prone to constant fogging).

Development Stages

- Separation anxiety - Is your child currently experiencing clinginess and upset to participate and join in? If so, this is a strong indicator to postpone booking your photo session until this normal childhood phase has passed and your child is once again happy and relaxed to participate.
- Stranger anxiety - Is your child currently experiencing upset or lack of trust when in new situations and meeting new people. If so, this is a strong indicator to postpone booking your photo session until this normal childhood phase has passed and your child is once again happy and relaxed and to participate.
